Citizens you're advised, a new menace is rising and spreading across Total War lands, dark and dangerous creatures from the reign of death are back to get their long waiting revenge against living people. Do you want to protect poor farmers and innocent childrens from the scary undeads? Do you feel yourself strong and powerfull and want to show everyone you're the best monster hunter around? Or simply you're a seeker of adventures in love with strong sensations? Watch our main map and get yourself teleported to one of the undeads cemeteries, and don't forget to note your scoring in the ranki ng section

We also added a new interesting part to the website, The Hunter's Guide , where you can find detailed information about new creatures, even if they've already been killed. If not kill it first to bind your name forever as the first hunter who killed that beast.

Undeads Cemetery spawners are for sell starting from today, in Tokuno wind shops Nagasaki BAKUMATSU \(188, 173, 22\)
